

HOWARD SHERMAN
PUBLIC RELATIONS

NEWS RELEASE

March 31, 2011

EXCLUSIVE TO WIRED ON LINE

MOOG MUSIC'S POLYTHEREMIN™ AMAZES MUSICIANS WORLDWIDE

Iso Directional Inductive Oscillator Technology To Boggle Next Generation Thereminists

ASHEVILLE, NC - APRIL 1, 2011: Introduced in 1928, the Theremin is one of the earliest and most widely known electronic instruments. Played by artists manipulating the pitch and volume of invisible sound waves radiated from a single antenna with their hands, Theremin music has distinguished hit records from such diverse artists as The Beach Boys, Led Zeppelin Clara Rockmore and Linkin Park.

Today (April 1st), Moog Music designers carrying on the legacy of visionary founder, Robert Moog have announced the first major technical Theremin design advance in over 40 years. The PolyTheremin™ incorporates bleeding edge IsoDirectional Inductive Oscillator Technology, to isolate space around five individual pitch antennas thus enabling each to be played simultaneously (finger-by-finger) without interference from it's companion antennas. This revolutionary concept breaks the long held belief that the Theremin could only be monophonic instrument.

The PolyTheremin ships with Dorit Chrysler's instructional video "Playing the PolyTheremin is Even Easier Than Playing a Monophonic Theremin."

Features:

- POWER Rocker Switch – On and Off AC power control
- AUDIO OUT – Standard ¼" phone jack delivers line level output to any compatible amplifier
- PITCH - Rotary controls (5) independently adjusts pitch of each antenna.
- VOLUME – Rotary control independently adjusts volume of each antenna (Note: reference to volume level not quantity)
- WAVEFORM – Rotary control adjusts audio output waveform
- BRIGHTNESS – Rotary control adjusts audio output brightness (audio not luminescence)
- ANTENNA CONNECTORS – (5) Threaded for easy disassembly, washing & shipping

Power supply included: Order 110v for use in US or Canada or 220v for use in Europe, Asia, South America and Australia. Also available in retro steam or (clean) coal engine power source models.

Photo: Dorit Chrysler is co-founder of the NY Theremin Society

Moog Music is an independently owned, electronic musical instrument company which manufactures each unit by hand, on-site in their Asheville, NC factory. Their annual April Fools Day product release does not reflect their serious commitment to exceptional music quality. Go Moog... Great Sounds/Warped Humor!

77 Bleecker Street Studio C2-23, New York, NY 10012
pH: 212 777 4711 Cell: 646 528 8724 hshermanpr@gmail.com